Medals for Minden drivers

Snowmobile racers from all over the United States and Canada travelled to Eganville, Ontario this weekend for the last race of the season in the World Cup Series. Among the racers were Steven Stewart and Tom Prentice Junior of Minden and both them brought home medals.

Steven entered three races in the Sno Pro Formula 1 class and raced to a first place finish in classes 4 and 5. He placed third in the class 6 race after being thrown off his machine. He was not injured in the fall and was able to finish the race. Steven was racing a Polaris sponsored by Tower Hill Marine of Dorset and was competing against some of the top drivers on the circuit, most of whom were racing factory sponsored machines.

Tom attended the race as Steven's mechanic but decided on the spur of the moment to enter the Junior Sno Cross competition.

The fifteen year old student had never competed in the World Cup series before but came away with a third place finish on a difficult muddy track that exhausted the drivers and did a lot of damage to their machines.

Steven missed a number of races this past winter due to injuries and conflicts with other races but intends to put in a full season next year on the racing circuit.

Council favours cutting bylaw

Serious consideration is being given to the enactment of a tree cutting bylaw in the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden. Members of the municipal council heard a presentation by one of the bylaw's strongest proponents, Elgin Stouffer, February 23. Stouffer is also the Deputy Reeve of Stanhope Township.

Stouffer came to the table wearing a lapel pin on which was inscribed "2034". He explained to the councillors that the pin had been given to him at a conference at which the long-term planning was being emphasized. "That is the outlook we need if we hope to preserve and improve the quality of area forests," Stouffer said.

He pointed out that a one hundred acre woodlot could provide short term jobs for three cutters and truck drivers if the wood is taken for burning. However, the same 100 acres, properly managed, could mean continuous employment for cutters, truckers and a wood processing industry.

Stouffer also noted that areas of hardwood which are clear-cut for firewood rarely regenerate hardwoods. "The less valuable trees are the fastest to grow, so they choke out other trees," he commented.

He said if the county continues to allow clear-cutting for firewood purposes, the potential forestry resource will be gone. He pointed out, "the bylaw protects the existing stands and is a method of suggesting good management of forest stands."

He described the bylaw, as enacted by Dysart et al, as "a mild bylaw, one that does not infringe on the rights of the individual in the management of his bushlot."

The four members of council, Reeve Lyle McKnight was on holiday, appeared to endorse the enactment of the bylaw in the municipality. Councillor Pat Burk said she had seen areas of bush which had been "devastated by firewood cutting. This is something we have to stop," she declared.

Councillor Gary Kenney said the action of a few has followed in the long tradition of the county which saw the resources stripped from the area to be used to create jobs elsewhere.

"We could support six factories, similar to the veneer plant operating in Wilberforce," Stouffer added. "There are a lot of jobs leaving the county with the trucks which are loaded with logs."

Stouffer said he was uncertain if a county-wide tree cutting bylaw could be enacted because of the objections received from some members of county council. He said efforts had been made to convince those in opposition that it was in the county's interest to enact the legislation, however, there were still some representatives who objected.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas suggested that if the county was not willing to act, the township should prepare its own bylaw. Stouffer said it was likely his own township would endorse a similar bylaw in the future.

"It appears the idea has our support," Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas commented. He said formal consideration of the matter would be left until Reeve McKnight returns to the council table.

Arena board seeks 1% hike

According to figures presented to the February 23 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council, the arena management board is seeking a 1% or $500 increase in its municipal allotment for 1984.

According to Dean Elliott, board chairman, and member Fraser Rogers, the budget they presented to the council represented a "no frills attempt to maintain the excellent facility we have."

They told the councillors that the 1983 request from the municipality was $40,000. This year they are asking for $40,500.

The operating budget of the arena facility will increase this year from $89,000 to almost $100,000, with an additional $16,000 earmarked for debenture payment. The difference between the municipal grant and total operating budget represents the revenue created through the rent of the building and functions sponsored by the board.

The board members noted they had managed to generate a $2000 surplus during 1983 and requested that this amount be transferred to the plexi-glass fund. There is $2000 in the fund at the moment and some work has been carried out during the past year enclosing the areas around the penalty boxes and timekeeper's area. It is estimated that it would cost $20,000 to enclose the entire ice surface with the nonbreakable plastic.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas said he felt there were, what he described as "a few pads", in the proposed budget presented to the councillors. He suggested that if the board realized a surplus at the end of 1984 that a portion of the excess be used to help defray the municipal grant.

Councillor Pat Burk disagreed with the idea. She said the surplus funds should be placed in the plexi-glass or Zamboni replacement reserve fund. The councillor suggested that the committee would be encouraged to spend the entire budget, whether it was warranted or not, if the municipality made it a policy of reclaiming any surpluses.

Fraser Rogers added that the surplus is a result of the hard work of committee members and he felt if they couldn't make use of the money for arena purposes, they would lose their enthusiasm for careful spending.

The presentation by the arena board will be considered by the municipality's budget committee and become part of the overall township budget expected later this spring.

Both the new manager and the presidents of the Chamber of Commerce, Ken Langdon were unavailable for comment earlier this week. Miss Skinner assumes her duties March 1.

Allin Cooper: fighting 'city hall'

Government agencies have frequently come under attack for the impersonal, heavy-handed manner in which they carry out their duties. The Ministry of Revenue has recently been criticized not only for the use of quotas but also because of its arrogant attitude towards taxpayers.

One case history serves as an example of the conflict an individual can become involved in while trying to deal with the civil service. Allin S. Cooper, a 60 year old resident of the county has been involved in a struggle with the Unemployment Insurance Commission for the past six years.

In 1955 while working as a station operator for Ontario Hydro Mr. Cooper began a chain saw sales and repair business in his home. In 1969 he stopped working at Hydro after being with them for 21 years and devoted his time to his own business now known as Woodcutter Supply. After being approached by The Orillia Light and Power Company in 1973 he began working at the Minden Generating Station on a part-time basis as a relief operator.

In January 1978 he began working full time for the company at Swift Rapids. In March Mr. Cooper wrote to the Unemployment Insurance Commission explaining that he had been a self employed person who took on part-time work in a relief capacity. He questioned whether or not he qualified for Unemployment Insurance benefits and if not, why he had to pay UIC premiums. He also requested that regulations pertaining to his situation be sent to him. There was no response to the letter so Mr. Cooper sent another letter repeating his requests but again there was no response.

When new automatic supervisory controls went into operation in the station a number of employees including Mr. Cooper were laid off in August 1978. He applied for and began to receive UIC benefits and made a number of job applications for positions in Minden and Scarborough. In February 1979 Mr. Cooper was notified by the UIC that he was not entitled to benefits because he was engaged in a business on his own and had not proven that he was unemployed. He was also notified that payment of benefits was suspended from the time he had begun collecting.

Mr. Cooper wrote to the UIC requesting an interpretation of their notice of refusal and details of the regulations pertaining to his case. He received photo copies of the regulations and was advised that he could obtain a copy of the Unemployment Insurance Act from a private publishing company. He wrote immediately to the UIC advising them that he wanted to appeal the decision to suspend his benefits "on the basis that" to this date I am unaware of the complete details of this refusal and have not been supplied details to the act. Also the information relating to this case has not been fully and properly presented."

Appearance

In March Mr. Cooper appeared before a Board of Referees who ruled that the hearing should be set aside until Mr. Cooper had received further information on the Unemployment Insurance Act. In July the UIC decided that the hearing should be held at once. Mr. Cooper sent a letter by Certified Mail asking for a delay until mid-October since he had still not received the information he required. He commented in his letter that "a just and fair hearing in my opinion is of prime importance." Mr. Cooper received a receipt for the letter indicating it had been received even though there was no signature on the receipt from the person who had accepted the letter at the UIC.

The Board of Referees apparently had not received the request for a delay and went ahead with the hearing. They upheld the decision by the UIC that Mr. Cooper was not entitled to benefits. Mr. Cooper wrote to the Board in September requesting another hearing because he had been denied the right to representation.

The Board agreed and a hearing was held in October. The Board's decision remained unchanged. Mr. Cooper accepted the decision of the Board but during the hearing he stated that the UIC Act should be amended so that parties in his position should not be discriminated against and that self-employed workers should not be assessed UIC premiums while they were engaged in short term jobs for other parties.

However the wrangling was not over.

Refund Requested

Next summer Mr. Cooper was notified by the Ministry of Employment and Immigration that he would have to pay back the benefits he had received. The Ministry insisted that the total amount of $1848 be paid back within 15 days. Mr. Cooper responded to the letter stating that he would pay back the benefits he had received at a rate of $300 every two weeks. On October 4 after paying back half the amount Mr. Cooper was charged with fraud because he had furnished information that he "knew to be false in an Application for Benefits dated August 31, 1978 respecting self employment."

The case dealing with the charges laid under the Unemployment Insurance Act went to trial before Judge G. Inrig in Lindsay Provincial Court. In his judgement which was made on January 15, 1981 Judge Inrig quoted from the board of referees who stated "It is the opinion of this board that this particular appeal warrants some re-consideration by the Federal authorities when making changes or amendments to the Unemployment Act and regulations. This board further considers that the Act as it relates to this appeal is discriminating against both the appellant and the employer. Therefore, this board reluctantly concludes that the appellant is engaged in business on his own account" Judge Inrig continued: It was certainly not known whether the accused was self-employed or not, under the regulations, until such a decision was made."

In commenting on the prosecutors suggestion that Mr. Cooper should have made further inquiries to the UIC while working for the Orillia Light and Power Company the Judge stated "I find no obligation on the accused to make further inquiries. He did more than most would have done, and he received the treatment that, unfortunately, big government now affords the taxpayer. Our governments, both Federal and Provincial, have become so large that the employees of the taxpayers cease to be civil servants and are now the Big Brothers of our society. Service is not one of the attributes of government today."

Judge Inrig stated in his conclusion "I am satisfied that Mr. Cooper honestly believed that he was entitled to benefits, having paid premiums for twenty six years, and I'm satisfied that he looked upon his employment with Orillia Light and Power as his principal means of livelihood; and that his participation in the family business was minor."

The charge against Mr. Cooper was dismissed.

Refused repayment

When the fraud charge had been laid Mr. Cooper notified the UIC that he would stop sending payments because of the action taken by the UIC. After the charges were dismissed Mr. Cooper still refused to continue paying back the benefits he had received. In commenting on his decision to stop the payments Mr. Cooper explained; "I had agreed to pay them back but the expenses of the lawyer's fees, the loss of work time and the costs of travelling to Lindsay for three court appearances were above and beyond what I owed. They had gotten enough out of me." He also commented that in his opinion they had laid the fraud charge with insufficient evidence.

Mr. Cooper asked his lawyer to try to resolve the situation and in March he received a notice of appeal. However before Mr. Cooper was able to appear before the Board of Referees he was involved in a very serious accident while test piloting an ultra light aircraft. While in the hospital Mr. Cooper asked for an adjournment of the hearing until he was physically able to appear on his own behalf at the hearing. The hearing was carried out while he was still in the hospital. The Board ruled against him and because of the decision he can no longer appeal.

The UIC still wants Mr. Cooper to pay back the remaining $948 of the benefits paid to him but he has decided not to pay. "If they had just let me pay it back in the first place, it would have saved everyone a lot of trouble" he explained adding "It's not so much the money, it's the principle involved."

Mr. Cooper also offered the opinion that "The expression 'You can't fight city hall' was probably invented by someone at city hall just to discourage people" and added "People have to stand up for themselves."

Resident suggests changes

A proposal to improve South Lake Road at the intersection with the Bat Lake Road needs further study according to Ross Warburton a resident on the Bat Lake Road. He appeared before the February meeting of the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council to express his concern on the matter.

Warburton noted that the South Lake Road is under the jurisdiction of the county but suggested since the road intersects with a municipal road, the council should be concerned. He pointed out that while the county intends to make some changes at the intersection of the two roads, in particular straightening the curves, he noted the plans indicate that a blind spot which now exists will not be eliminated by the changes.

The resident noted that when South Lake Road is improved, drivers will be encouraged to travel at a higher rate of speed, thereby increasing the chances of a serious mishap at the corner. He asked the council to make representation at the county level to have the hazard removed during the reconstruction.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas, who chaired the meeting, said that while reconstruction of the remaining portion of South Lake Road has been in the planning stage for some time, the budget for the coming year has not yet been struck. Warburton suggested that if the work was not planned to take place this year, it gives the residents of the area more time to make suggestions to the county, rather than allowing the work to proceed and discovering that a dangerous situation still exists.

Pergolas asked the resident to prepare his observations on the matter in written form so that Reeve Lyle McKnight, who is a member of the county road committee, could bring them to the group's attention.

As well, an effort will be made to contact property owners in the area, including those on Canning Lake, for their comments.

Four out of ten

Population was probably the main determining factor when municipal political units were established in Haliburton County. The townships had already been carved out of the wilderness of early Ontario. The names were in place, in most cases. It was simply a matter to deciding how many townships would constitute a municipal unit.

When it came to creating municipal political divisions, the size of the population would have been of ultimate importance for a number of reasons. A concentration of population meant there was a group of individuals in a given area who would benefit from and need municipal services. Of course, these same individuals provided the tax base to support these services. Population concentrations also inferred the necessary infrastructure such as transportation, health, a private sector among other services were already in place to support the municipal effort.

Conversely, a lack of population meant that some townships had to be grouped with adjacent administrations to form a unit large enough to support and require a municipal structure.

The result of the use of this criteria in determining municipal divisions, was the somewhat erratic situation in Haliburton County today. There are seven single township municipalities [Bicroft being the latest creation], and three municipalities in which there are more than one township.

Those boundaries may indeed have made sense years ago when they were first drawn, but that does not necessarily mean they are valid today. For instance, once prominent areas have faded or been over-shadowed by more vigorous growth in adjacent townships. Economic factors have changed. The expertise and abilities needed to successfully and efficiently operate a municipal structure have changed. The ability to move quickly from one area to another has reduced the negative impact of distance. All these factors have changed but the boundaries set over a hundred years ago have not.

It is time, we believe for a reassessment of the municipal divisions in the county. It is time they reflect the realities of today rather than attempt to perpetuate what once may have been correct.

We would suggest that an updated municipal map of Haliburton County would contain four municipalities:

The townships of Bicroft, Cardiff, Monmouth and Glamorgan would be combined into one municipality.

The municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden, would be combined with the townships of Lutterworth, Snowdon and Stanhope to form single municipality.

Sherborne, McClintock, Livingstone, Lawrence and Nightingale Township, better known as Sherborne et al, would remain unchanged.

Dysart et al, which includes nine townships, would also remain unchanged.

Our division creates four municipalities, two of which already exist. In all cases there are substantial population bases, an existing infrastructure and a core of staff on which to draw in creating the municipal departments. As mentioned in last week's editorial, the new configuration would eliminate the many duplications which now exist and result in municipalities with large enough economic clout to enable them to hire the professionals needed to assist in development for the future.

We are well aware that this idea is not one that would be accepted readily. However, we feel it is one worth considering. Certainly the members of Haliburton County Council, and the members of the ten municipal councils should give it careful consideration.

Editor:

A further thought to add to Mr. J. Robert Gardiner's letter that appeared in the February 8 issue of The Times:

It is certainly to be hoped that leg-hold traps will ultimately be banned, but that will be some time down the pike, I think. Even if made law in the relatively near future, there are hundreds of thousands of the leg-hold traps in Ontario and elsewhere. So their use will not disappear, overnight, whatever laws are passed - there simply cannot be sufficient policing to ensure such laws are obeyed. However, those who feel sufficiently strongly about the matter and who own land can do something about it, now. Immediately.

We are blessed with owning a few acres in Lutterworth Township and have given a trapper the right to trap in our property provided he uses only conibear (i.e. non-leg-hold) traps. He has agreed. Thus, if ever I come across a leg-hold trap on our land, I know that it does not belong to anyone who has the right to trap thereon and I dispose of it.

We are happy with the arrangement. Our trapper friend is happy with it. And animal suffering is vastly reduced. This arrangement didn't have to await any law.

It was the best field season yet for the Ontario Breeding Bird Atlas. Now entering its fourth year, the atlas is a five year program to map the breeding distribution of every species of bird that nests in the province.

More than 2500 reporting cards were sent in this winter from the 1450 participants who have signed on to date. They show that last year observers again made some interesting and startling discoveries.

Cinnamon Teal were found in Essex County, fully 1000 miles from the closest known site where normally observed. No one knows why they're here. Far to the north, at Fort Severn on Hudson's Bay, another observer confirmed Harris's Sparrow. In between, at Kenora, a Swainson's Hawk nest awaits confirmation. So does the female Canvasback with brood, far to the south, in Luther Marsh. Many sightings of Connecticut Warblers and Pine Grosbeaks were reported across

Bravery in the north

-by John Eakins, M.P.P.-

In my previous weekly reports, I referred to my visit with members of the Ombudsman Committee to the James Bay area of Ontario. The occasion was to review the effectiveness of the Ombudsman's office as it relates to our native people.

During our stay in Moosonee I had the privilege and pleasure of meeting a nineteen year old native lad by the name of Doug Rickard. Doug's name is being recommended to the Chancellory of Canadian Decorations for special recognition. I want to use this week's column to tell you something about this young man, who displayed extraordinary bravery by walking through some of Northern Ontario's most desolate bushland for more than six days in order to find some help for his ailing mother.

Mrs. Rickard had suffered a stroke at the family's isolated trapping camp, and there was no way to reach the outside world. Doug Rickard used his knowledge of the wilderness to accomplish a feat that would have been impossible for most Canadians. Although he had been trained to be self-sufficient in the bush, it must have required tremendous determination to set out alone in sub-zero temperatures to traverse many miles of inhospitable terrain, guided only by a rough map and his ability to recognize landmarks.

Mr. and Mrs. Rickard and their three sons had flown to the family's trapping camp in October. The outpost is situated on a tiny unnamed lake about 180 kilometres south-west of Moosonee. It had been a good trapping season, one the family was quite accustomed to and especially now that their three sons were along and able to help. On the night of November 29, Mrs. Rickard experienced dizziness and was restless all night. She had difficulty moving one side of her body and later that night couldn't talk. The family did not realize it, but Mrs. Rickard had suffered a stroke.

The airplane was not due to pick them up for another two weeks. Doug volunteered to go for help. He packed a sleeping bag, extra blanket, an axe, a rifle, snowshoes, extra moccasins and a rope, in case he had to construct a raft to cross a river. He took along sugar, tea, lard, flour and some beaver meat. His pack weighed 50 pounds.

The progress of his journey was fascinating to hear about, but space does not permit me to go into detail. On December 6, the sixth day of his journey, Doug stopped to rest for only three hours at the time of day when he normally quit for the night. He could see the lights of a generating station. He continued with difficulty until midnight before getting out his sleeping bag. The next morning, after an hour's walk, he reached Hydro's Kipling Generating Station, but no one was there.

He decided to continue to Smoky Falls, another 10-12 miles. He was now on hard surface and was able to take his snowshoes off for the first time in a week. Down the road he met some Hydro employees and their quick action brought a company helicopter; the family was rescued and Mrs. Rickard taken to hospital in Moose Factory. She is now recovering and the O.P.P.

and others are recommending Doug for a bravery award.

He is a big, strong, and modest young man, who deserves recognition. I sure hope he gets it.

I will keep you informed at a later date through this column.

Kinsmen mark special week

submitted

The week of February 17-24 has been declared Kinsmen week. This is due to the fact that Kinsmen is an exclusive Canadian Service Club comprising of young men from the ages of 21 to 40.

The concept of Kinsmen is to take young men of good character and allow them the opportunity to expand their horizons in business methods and self confidence through the challenge of holding office; while the focus of the clubs activities is in the community's greatest need. We at Kin also believe that time has to be set aside for play, but also we know that by blending these concepts together one serves and matures at the same time.

Over the years Minden has benefited with donations of the first ambulance, children's play park, financial support for the community centre, lighted ball park, financial support for the new washrooms.

We always have funds pledged for minor hockey, figure skating, H.C.S.A., fitness club, Boy Scouts, fire victims and the needy.

Our on going District project is Cystic Fibrosis, a hereditary children's disease. With Kin's financial support this disease some day might be cured. We pray for the sake of children that this day will come.

One on going problem facing all service clubs is membership. We always have room for anyone that is willing to give of his time and money to the betterment of the community. I can guarantee that by taking up the challenge of Kin you will be better for it.

If interested you can contact President Doug Ripley at 754-2057 or Larry McKnight, 286-1011 or 286-2651.

Grant

A community planning study grant of $23,985 has been awarded to the Township of Anson, Hindon and Minden, Claude Bennett, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing, announced recently.

The grant will be used by the municipality to prepare an official plan.

Community planning study grants are designed to encourage municipalities to resolve land use planning issues to reflect municipal and economic priorities.

They may also be used for special studies to develop community improvement policies, to determine the feasibility of using data processing technology in the local planning process and to assist in implementing the Planning Act.

from the chamber

It is with great pleasure that we announce the appointment of a new manager to the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce. Emily Skinner will commence her duties March 1. We are looking forward to working with her in continuing to build a better and stronger organization of tourist promotion.

Emily and her partner Martha Waind operate Sandalwood Gifts in Minden, so are not strangers to the county. Emily is also teaching a college credit course at night through Sir Sandford Fleming College in Business Management and Sunday School in Minden. As it has been said before, it is the busy person who gets things done.

Emily has had many years of experience with the Toronto Dominion Bank in Toronto teaching future managers for the TD so we feel very fortunate indeed to have such a talented and experienced person to direct the Chamber.

We would also like to welcome the following new members to the Chamber:

- Pole Position Kartways formerly Minden Kartways has been purchased by Carol and Brian Groves of Bowmanville. The track is located two miles south of Minden on Highway 35 and they have some great ideas for further development of the site.

- Moonlight Bay Tent and Trailer Park, on Lake Wilbermere, one mile south of Wilberforce, is being operated by Gena Robertson and Ric Pringle who have built in facilities making camping accessible to the disabled.

- Glenroy Lodge on Highway 35 at Halls Lake is owned by Gisela and Fred Klepeis and has a L.L.B.O. licenced restaurant.

- Stanhope Market Place on Highway 118 at Maple Lake, owned by Kurt and Charlotte Leumann, is a general store open 7 days a week from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and on Fridays to 9 p.m.

- Haliburton Truck Service is owned by Emile and Jane Duchene on Highway 121 in the building formerly housing Boice Motors. They have parts and do repairs on the heavy trucks.

- The Reflection Restaurant, formerly Mr. Fogg's in Carnarvon, is owned by Thomas and Gertrude Holland and managed by daughter Elizabeth Evans. The restaurant is open 6 days a week (closed Mondays) from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. in the licenced dining room and Friday and Saturday nights 5 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Piggery Pub downstairs. Summer hours will be extended.

- Lengillinn is a private bed and breakfast establishment on Kashaga Drive owned by Hadden and Lenore Gillespie.

- Del Haven Resort is a commercial bed and breakfast on Highway 121 just east of Kashaga Drive, owned by Ray and Gabriel Gervais.

Sportsmen's Show space is available to Chamber members on a first come, first served basis at $100 for 2 days or $60 for 1 day. Members may also have their brochures displayed during the entire show for $35. Please let us know if you wish to participate by calling 286-1760 now.

Stan McDougal of the Haliburton County Library System called to let us know he had just recently ordered the books mentioned in last week's Chamber column. The books, from the Ontario Historical Society, have to do with celebrating Ontario's Bicentennial. The County libraries also receive the Ontario Historical Societies publications throughout the year.

Historic property for sale

A local resident has suggested that the Langdon house, on Main Street across from Mike's Milk, should be purchased and restored as a community historical landmark. Bob McBrien, the former operator of Minden Pro Hardware, approached the February 23 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council with the suggestion.

McBrien told the councillors the building dates back to at least 1907, according to references in the Nila Reynolds' book 'In Quest of Yesterday'. He suggested the structure could be older than that.

McBrien, who purchased the property in 1967, described the home as a good solid structure and suggested it was the only historical house in the community other than the Clergy House, which he noted was not open to the public.

He suggested the restoration of the home could be tied in with development of the Minden Mountain, as suggested in the core area study carried out two years ago. McBrien said he needed to sell the property and was interested in offering it to the township or a historical group so the structure is maintained.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas said that provincial historical authorities cannot purchase property. However, er, he noted that representatives from the board would be visiting the community soon and suggested they might be interested in having a look at the property.

McBrien told the council he hopes to sell the property within six months.

Atlas information is stored in Ottawa in the same computerized data base as that for the LANDSAT satellite. This allows for the convenient map overlay of atlas information with habitat factors such as forest types. The Canadian Wildlife Service and the Lands Directorate of Environment Canada deserve commendation for contributing the data and mapping services.

Not surprisingly, large areas of Northern Ontario pose a real challenge to atlas co-ordinators. Many of the 100 kilometre square areas designated for systematic field work remain to be fully explored. Both their size and remoteness, together with the frequent difficulty of confirming northern birds, means there is no limit to the amount of useful work that can be done. A major boost is provided to this effort by the Ministry of Natural Resources and other carriers which fly pairs of observers into remote areas free of charge.

Ironically, the Algonquin Park region continues to rank as one of the least surveyed areas in the province, according to atlas co-ordinator Mike Cadman. Special field trips are being organized for the 1985 survey season to ensure that this problem is remedied. Interested naturalists are invited to volunteer.

For more information on these outings or any other aspect of the atlas project, contact co-ordinator Mike Cadman, in the Atlas office (355 Lesmill Road, Don Mills, Ontario M3B 2W8, Telephone 416-444-8419.) The atlas is co-sponsored by the Federation of Ontario Naturalists and the Long Point Bird Observatory.

Two more units planned for 1984

The community of Minden should be receiving two more geared-to-income housing units during 1984, according to Tom Morrison, a representative of the Rural and Native Housing Program of the federally sponsored Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. Morrison addressed the February 23 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council.

The two new housing units will be in addition to the three constructed during the winter on Prince Street. He noted that these homes are due for completion by April 1.

Morrison added that during 1984, 13 additional units will be built in Haliburton County, including two planned for Minden.

He told the councillors that budget cuts last year had meant that some projects, which had been on the list to receive the housing assistance, had to be deferred. These projects will receive priority in the selection of areas for consideration this year. The allocation of housing this year includes two for Minden; Stanhope one; Glamorgan two; Snowdon three; Monmouth three; and Dy-sart two.

He told the councillors that he is presently looking for suitable property in the community for the two units. Morrison noted that there were some problems with cracks in the basement of the three new structures. He said he could not pinpoint the cause but suggested it might be related to the fact the buildings were constructed during the winter, or the land on which they are located. "Remedial action is being taken," he commented.

Morrison told the councillors the program hopes to have the 1984 homes built during the summer months and ready for occupancy before school starts next fall. He has a maximum budget of $71,000 per unit.

Councillor Pat Burk asked if that amount could be stretched to provide more housing by spending it on renovating existing houses. Morrison commented that the excess funds must be returned to CMHC after the identified number of housing units have constructed or renovations had taken place.

The housing representative said there are currently eight applications on file for housing within the municipality.

In response to a question from Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas, Morrison said tendering for house construction could be done on a one unit basis which will allow smaller contractors to bid on the work. Morrison pointed out however that the contractors must be registered with HUDAC to be qualified to bid on the work.

How much do councillors make

Ever wonder how much the reeve or the councillors of a municipality earn for their troubles?

The details on how much each official makes, including expenses, is of course public. To ensure that an effort is not made to hide the amount each elected official receives from the municipality, the Ontario government requires that a statement be filed each spring outlining the payments for the previous year.

The statement was endorsed last week by the Anson, Hindon and Minden council, revealing the following information:

- Reeve Lyle McKnight received $4330 in remuneration last year and $1000 in expense allowance.
- Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas was paid $3720 and an expense allowance of $750.
- Councillors Pat Burk and Gary Kenney were paid $3200 and received an expense allowance of $550.
- Councillor Dave Stevens, who joined the council in mid-year following the resignation of Councillor Larry Cummins, received $2153.85 in remuneration and an expense allowance of $370.19.
- Councillor Larry Cummins received $1046.17 in remuneration and an expense allowance of $179.81.

The figures above do not include the amounts paid to councillors to cover expenses incurred in attending conferences and conventions.

The best little warehouse in Haliburton!!

Action from the semi final game between Home Hardware and Hartwick Construction in the Minden Men's Recreational league. Hartwick went on to win the game in an exciting sudden-death overtime period.

Hartwick takes series

The Minden Men's Recreational Hockey semi-finals ended on Monday night when Hartwick Construction came from behind to defeat Home Hardware 5-4 in overtime.

Home Hardware only had eight men dressed for the game and the manpower shortage had a significant effect on the outcome of the game.

Home broke into the lead in the first period on a goal by Sid MacKeigan. The assist went to Ted Vasey. Home added another goal in the second period while managing to shut out Hartwick. John McAdam got the point on an assist from Ted Vasey.

Hartwick finally broke loose in the third period scoring four goals. C. Berrube, Larry Sawyer, Al Stender and Lawrence Loughheed ended the Hartwick drought.

Sid MacKeigan kept Home in the game scoring his second and third goals of the night. Regulation play ended with the teams tied 4-4.

Home Hardware simply ran out of steam in their valiant attempt to win the series. At 10:51 of the overtime period T. McElwain scored for Hartwick to end the game. Hartwick won the best of three semi final series two games to one.

On Monday, March 5 Hartwick Construction will take on the Rockcliffe Foamblowers in a best of seven final series. The game will begin at 7 p.m. There is no admission charge.

Gas tax will continue

- by Bill Scott, M.P. -

In 1980, the then Minister of Energy, Mr. Lalonde, introduced a new tax on gasoline called the Canadian Ownership Tax. It was to be a revenue producing tax designed to pay for the purchase of private oil companies by Petro Canada. The revenue was later also applied to help refinance Dome Petroleum.

At the time the tax was introduced, the Minister stated that the revenue would never be applied to the general budgetary deficit of the government. Now, Mr. Lalonde, the Finance Minister, has announced and confirmed in the latest budget that this tax will be continued indefinitely and the revenues, in direct contrast to his earlier statements, will be used to finance the budgetary deficit.

On February 21 in the House of Commons, the Hon. John Crosbie asked the Minister of Finance to explain how this will affect the projected $31.5 billion deficit. If, as Mr. Lalonde said in the budget, Dome Petroleum will not require the approximately $500 million allocated to them would this reduce the deficit? If, as now speculated, Dome will require this money will this mean the deficit will increase? Mr. Lalonde stated that their projected deficit is still the same but did not really comment on how Dome's requirement will affect the deficit.

This tax, as those on liquor and tobacco, have had a disastrous effect on the tourism industry in Canada. Recently, the Tourism Industry Association of Canada held its annual meeting in Charlottetown, P.E.I. After suffering a 1983 trade deficit of $2 billion, the Association is hoping for a recovery in 1984. They hope, as well, with this recovery to be able to bring back into the labour force at least some of the 100,000 jobs lost last year in the tourism industry. As stated by Mr. William Pattison, outgoing Chairman of the Association, "We're saying the disproportionate cost of gas in this country is one of the major contributions to Canadians not travelling at home and Americans not coming here for visits. We are trying to impress upon all levels of government not to make decisions on taxes without considering tourism; it's something they've never thought about."

I can appreciate that politically this government feels they must do everything they can to prevent a further rise in the deficit. However, continuing a 45% difference in the cost of gasoline between Canada and the United States and the continued indexing of alcohol and tobacco products is a sure way of discouraging the tourism industry and causing further unemployment.

Help your Heart Fund Help your Heart...

OCAP CAN HELP

Are you between the ages of 16 and 24?
Have you been out of school for at least 3 months?
Are you actively looking for your first full-time, career-related job?

If the answer is yes to each of these questions, the Ontario government has just the program for you...

The Ontario Career Action Program

You may be finding it extremely difficult to get a job in your chosen line of work because you lack experience; at the same time, the only way to obtain this experience is by getting a job! The Government of Ontario has designed the Ontario Career Action Program (OCAP) to help you over this frustrating hurdle.

EARN WHILE YOU LEARN

The OCAP training period lasts up to 16 weeks, depending on the complexity of training. During this time, you receive a training allowance of $100 a week.

GET PRACTICAL, ON-THE-JOB TRAINING

OCAP gives you practical, on-the-job training. You learn in a real work environment, one of the best ways to improve your job skills, work habits, and productivity. This work experience should increase your chances of obtaining that first all-important job. It should also help you to compete for jobs with more self-confidence. OCAP will not find you a permanent job, but it will help you to find one for yourself.

FIND THAT PERMANENT JOB

Job-search counselling and career guidance are also part of the OCAP experience. You will participate in workshops on how to search for employment effectively, how to write a good resume, and how to present yourself at a job interview. You will also be encouraged to apply for regular jobs and given help in arranging job interviews during your training.

HOW TO APPLY

Application forms for participation in the Ontario Career Action Program and further information are available from the OCAP office at your local community college or Canada Employment Centre.

EMPLOYERS OCAP can help

WHAT IS OCAP?

The Ontario Career Action Program is designed to help young people learn practical, marketable skills on the job.

Many young people face a major problem. Lack of previous work experience prevents them from finding regular jobs related to their career goals and education, yet the only way they can get that experience is by being employed! OCAP was created to help overcome this dilemma by bringing together unemployed youths and employers, with the help of your local community college.

EARN WHILE YOU LEARN

OCAP provides on-the-job training for a period of up to 16 weeks. Trainees will receive an allowance of $100 per week plus 4 per cent vacation pay from the Ontario Government. Income Tax, Canada Pension Plan and Unemployment Insurance premiums will be deducted. Trainees are responsible for their own health coverage but most trainees will qualify for premium assistance. Enquire at your local OHIP office.

WHO QUALIFIES?

Trainers:

All Ontario businesses, industries, provincial government ministries, colleges, universities, crown corporations, municipal and federal governments are eligible to participate. You must ensure:

* that the training will be for a period of up to 16 weeks, depending on the complexity of the job duties.

* that there are good prospects for employment of the trainee with you after OCAP

* OR that the skills acquired in training are marketable in the community, so that job prospects for the trainee are good with other businesses

* that no regular full-time or part-time employees are displaced in any way by the introduction of an OCAP trainee

If you are an employer who wants to hire a young, eager person but can't meet the initial training costs ... the Ontario government has an employment program just for you ...

PLEASE DROP IN TO OUR HALIBURTON CAMPUS TO DISCUSS YOUR TRAINING NEEDS OR GIVE US A CALL
AT 705-457-1680.

A Minden foursome was the winner in the second annual Senior Men's Red and White Bonspiel held Tuesday (February 21) at the Minden Curling Club.

Sixteen rinks took part in the successful two day event with entries coming from Bobcaygeon, Peterborough, Fenelon Falls, Campbellford, Woodville, Haliburton and the home club.

The winning rink was skipped by Jim Burton with Milt Endicott vice, Jack Harrington second and John Beachli Sr. lead. Runner-up in the bonspiel was the entry from Campbellford. Members of the team included Clare Ingram skip, Don Myers vice, Len Lizotte second and Tom Smith lead. A foursome from Peterborough took third place.

The Minden foursome was the same team which travelled to the Men's Senior Tankard earlier in February. Of the 48 teams entered, the local rink advanced to the semi-finals before being eliminated from further play.

BIA chairman seeks clarification

Communications between the Anson, Hindon and Minden council and the Minden Business Improvement Area appears to be suffering according to a letter from the chairman of the business organization, Gord Monk. In a letter read at the February 23 meeting of the council, the chairman of the BIA stated that he had not received replies to requests for information sent to the council or the council's BIA representative, Councillor Gary Kenney.

The BIA chairman said he was even uncertain if indeed he was still the chairman of the organization and felt that the lack of response from the council may indicate that his term was complete.

Councillor Gary Kenney said, "Mr. Monk has a right to be miffed." He noted that a promotional project undertaken by several members of the BIA board of directors and himself had been proceeding without the chairman's input. "When we started, Mr. Monk was very busy, and we have carried on without contacting him further," he said.

The councillor also said the chairman should have received replies to the letters he sent to the council on BIA matters. He said he was remiss in that regard.

Kenney added that as far as he and other members of the board were concerned, Mr. Monk was still the president and is entitled to hold that post until the present term of council expires.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas said the BIA president was entitled to a letter of explanation outlining the reasons for the delay in responding to his letter. Councillor Kenney said he would also contact Mr. Monk personally to explain what had transpired.

Over 150 people attended Haliburton Legion Friday night to honour J. Bruce McKay of Haliburton who retired after over 25 years with the MNR. After a delicious meal, various presentations were made to Bruce and his wife Fay. The highlight of the evening was a "fashion parade" put on by the "high class models" of the timber department. Everyone had a wonderful time and we join them in wishing Bruce and Fay a long and very happy retirement.

March 2 there will be no movies for adults in the Library / Cultural Centre however, movies for children will be shown as usual Friday evening.

Winners at the weekly card party at St. Paul's were for cribbage Dora Dawson and Sheila Bull. For euchre, lone hand Pearl Cowen. Other winners were Charlotte O'Neill and Gladys Wruth.

The Share and Learn group will meet in the library room in the Cultural Centre on Wednesday, March 7, to work on their current project.

The Thrift Shop at St. Paul's Anglican Church will be open Friday from 1 to 4 p.m. This week's special is blouses for just 25¢ each. What a bargain.

Congratulations to Annie and Fred Walker on the birth of their first great-grandchild - a daughter for Valerie and Myles Harrison of Peterborough. First grandchild for Doreen and Grenville Harrison also of Peterborough and another great-grandchild for Clayton Harrison.

Club 35 results from their weekly card party were passed on by our friend Alex Stevenson and are, as follows: - Lone Hands - Mary Stevenson; High Lady - Edith Russell; High Man - Bruce Cummings. The 50 - 50 draw was won by Olive Daniels while other winners for the evening were Art Verbaan, Inez Mestroni, Murray Daniels, and May Hodgson.

Once again the ladies of St. Paul's Anglican Church are making Easter Eggs. They will cost $1.25 each and personalized eggs may be ordered by calling 286-1817 or 754-3161.

Do not miss the opening of the latest exhibition to take place to the Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden

Thursday, March 1 is the official opening of this superb exhibition of wildlife paintings and photographs by Brian McDonald. Brian is a commercial photographer in Toronto and has a home near Ingoldsby where he spends his summers painting. Come out and support your gallery and do yourself the favour of seeing this exhibition.

Do you know what we celebrate on March first? Get yourself a leek or a daffodil and join all Welsh men and women across the land in celebrating St. David's Day. St. David, of course, is the patron saint of Wales - Land of Song.

We tend to think of Wales as being just another part of Britain but the Welsh are a strong, hardy, yet romantic and sensitive race - as evidenced by the poetry of Dylan Thomas and the marvellous entertainers born and bred there, such as the golden voiced Richard Burton and singers like Tom Jones and Shirley Bassey. It's not all mining and singing as portrayed in the classic "How Green was my Valley" but when one listens to the fantastic male voice choirs, one is convinced there is something special about the Welsh.

We have our own special Welshman in this office - his claim to being a part of that race is through his mother, Gwyneth. Michael Shirley is not quite one's idea of a Richard Burton, but he does evince many of the qualities of the race.

We have heard it said in this office however, if one wasn't born a Scot being Welsh was the next best thing. So, to all our Welsh friends (and those who wish they were) have a very happy St. David's Day.

Dear readers; February is drawing to a close and we have this to say, by the time you receive this letter it will be the last day. Then the month of March will enter in, the days getting longer, the sun shining brighter, also getting stronger, the snow disappearing, the birds are on the wing. Everything is pointing to an early spring.

For the chapel service Sunday night, Rev. Burgess and wife Mary always do appear. Rev. has an interesting message for us and is so sincere.

We have Mrs. Stutt in the Peterborough hospital, but coming along fine they say. And it won't be long when she'll be back to Hyland Crest again.

Rev. Westhaver of Minden United Church conducted a chapel service at 10:00 on Tuesday. He told a real amusing story about a miracle grindstone.

Mrs. Jean Cox came to us, our music to play. Thank you both for coming we would like to say.

Tuesday afternoon we played the quiz game again. I was on the A team's side and no matter how we tried to beat the B team, when the game was over both teams were tied.

In the Peterborough hospital we have Mrs. Ina McGuire, we don't know just how long she will be there, but we do know as a patient she will be having real loving care.

Tuesday night the Watson and Smith musicians came. We really like to see them come, when Al got his fiddle warmed up he really made it hum. With Thelma on the piano keys and Al on the fiddle, take your partner by the hand and all join in the middle.

I would like to thank everyone who sent me birthday cards and very best wishes on my 90th birthday.

The ladies in the craft room never idle a minute. To tell you what they are all doing, I wouldn't know where to begin it.

Thursday afternoon the W.A. ladies came down from Eagle Lake, not only brought a lovely lunch, but a delicious birthday cake. We had a birthday party for those who had a birthday in February. My sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Cowan and Muriel Hewitt joined the party to help make things really merry.

Friday afternoon Grace Coburn just came from across the way. Norma Barron came from town to lead us in a sing song and never let us down. They are so faithful to come and sing and play, read us jokes and entertain us each Friday.

We had our formal dinner here Friday night, we were served a lovely meal with rhubarb pie and ice cream for dessert. Our head cook Mark Schell had this to say, "I knew you liked rhubarb pie Bert and yesterday was your birthday."

Marilyn Stouffer entertained with Scottish songs, accompanied by Katherine Kellett which was really grand. All who helped so loyally needs a real good hand.

Bride: Do you still take an interest in all that I do?

Husband: Why certainly. For example: I have spent all day wondering what you put in that pie we had for supper last night.

Remember July 15, 1983?

July 15, 1983. The temperature topped 35.7 C. The humidity wasn't helping matters. And you couldn't beg, borrow or buy an air conditioner anywhere. Remember how you promised yourself you wouldn't let it happen again this summer?

Remember?

Well, now's the time to act, because you could
